Scholarship Description
The Charles B. Rangel International Affairs Summer Enrichment Program is a collaborative effort between Howard University and the U.S. Department of State. The Summer Enrichment Program is designed to provide students with a deeper appreciation of current issues and trends in international affairs, greater understanding of career opportunities in international affairs, and the enhanced knowledge and skills to pursue such careers. The Program encourages the involvement of African American and other minority group students. All majors are encouraged to apply, student majors need not have an international focus to be considered. Students who take part in the Program are referred to as Charles B. Rangel International Affairs Scholars (Rangel Scholars).

The Summer Enrichment Program takes place at Howard University in Washington, DC for six weeks beginning in mid-May. The program includes academic courses, seminars and visits to give students exposure to key policymakers and practitioners of international affairs. Students who are accepted receive tuition, travel, room and board, as well as a stipend, for the program.
