

A Town Hall Meeting: An Update on Howard University's Fiscal Status

President Sidney Ribeau is inviting the University community to attend a town hall meeting designed to provide an update on Howard University's budget. This town hall meeting is scheduled for Thursday, March 26, 3 p.m. - 4 p.m., in the ballroom of the Blackburn Center. Continuing with his dialogue of openness, transparency and engaging the whole community, this meeting will share the University's financial position, explain the role of finances and the budget process in attaining the campus' vision, and engage the campus in how the University has to address the fiscal challenges, both in the short and long term. This town hall meeting is open to everyone.